

RIOTING MEXICANS CHARGED BY AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Fisk Denies Slicing Pool With McAdoo

Trouble In Juarez As Result Of A "Bath Edict"

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—Serious rioting by Mexicans at the Juarez end of the international bridge was resumed at 7 o'clock today. A crowd of 500 men and women, incensed at not being allowed to cross the bridge until bathed, began throwing stones and bottles at the American soldiers doing duty as customs guards. Two of the guards were injured by the missiles. As the mob advanced across the bridge a company of soldiers charged them with clubbed rifles driving them back.

Mexican newspapers printed here declare that the rioting was the outgrowth of a feeling of triumph over General Pershing's withdrawal from Mexico, which, the newspapers declared, was forced by the Carranzista government.

The Spanish Times, in commenting on yesterday's action by the mob, said:

"The leaders were telling the crowd that the Americans can do nothing to us as was demonstrated by First Chief Carranza in driving out the 'gringo army.'"

Andres Garcia, Mexican consul general, attempted to speak to the mob this morning from an auto. The mob, composed mostly of men and boys, hooted and refused to listen to him.

Sergeant Peck, of Company A, Twenty-third United States Infantry, was struck by the shower of stones and injured about the head. Roy Schuyler, of the customs guard, was struck by a bottle and slightly injured.

Company A charged the mob and pushed them back across the center of the bridge. About 3 o'clock Mexican cavalry with whips charged the mob and drove all off the bridge, but were unable to disperse the crowd.

The street car company did not resume service across the bridge today and Americans are not allowed to cross the line. Shouts of "death to gringos" are heard at frequent intervals.

Yesterday at the Juarez end of the international bridge 400 Mexican women stormed American street cars, driving off the crews. Federal authorities announced that one Mexican was killed during the riot yesterday and several others injured. David McChesney, an American reporter, was caught in the crowd, the women tearing his clothing and scratching his face and shouting "kill the gringo." During the rioting some women shouted "Viva Villa!"

PERSHING IS ON WAY OUT OF MEXICO

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 29.—"General Pershing is on his way out of Mexico."

Thus did General Funston today make first official announcement at south department headquarters of the withdrawal of the American punitive expedition.

Pershing will proceed at once to El Paso and will continue to report to Funston, until assigned to a post as major general, to which grade he was recently promoted.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Withdrawal of the American military expedition in Mexico was ordered by the war department late Saturday and by the end of another week the entire command, after ten months on Mexican soil, probably will have recrossed into the United States.

The order went to General Funston in command at the border and left to his discretion as to the time of starting the northward movement and the details of carrying it out. For several weeks he has known of the administration's determination to order the troops back to the border and under his decision the expedition has been concentrated for the long march.

BIG CABINET SHIFT NOW PREDICTED

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—A big cabinet shift will take place early in President Wilson's second term, it was learned today.

This will be in addition to the diplomatic shake up which will take place about March four, or very soon thereafter.

These expected cabinet changes, however, will not begin, it is believed until several months after the president's second inauguration. In all cases, it is stated, the cabinet resignations to come will be "voluntary."

The contemplated changes will affect the treasury, agriculture, commerce and probably state portfolios.

Of the four probable changes, that at the state department is the most uncertain. Reports that Secretary Lansing might succeed Ambassador Page at London, have been rife but talk of this shift is to be based only on report.

Secretary of Agriculture Houston will leave his post probably in the summer, it is reliably stated. Secretary of Commerce Redfield will accept a position with a large manufacturing concern in the early fall, and Secretary McAdoo will enter private business about the same time.

There are the usual rumors of other changes, but there appears little likelihood that beyond the four men mentioned there will be any other resignations during the first year of the president's second term.

As successors, Carl Vrooman has been mentioned for Houston's place, and Representative Carter Glass for the portfolio now held by Secretary McAdoo.

The president, however, has been so engaged with international matters that he has been able to give the cabinet question little thought.

As a result of this meeting it is rumored that a reconciliation was effected.

WEAR CARNATIONS IN HONOR OF MCKINLEY

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—Gov. Cox wore a white carnation today in honor of McKinley's birthday anniversary. The governor also provided bouquets for the rest of his office staff. Adjutant General Wood, on arriving here this forenoon from Dayton, ordered a huge bouquet of white flowers placed in the folded arm of the McKinley statue in the state house grounds.

VICTORY ON FIVE FRONTS CLAIMED BY THE ENTENTE

London, Jan. 29.—Allied victories on five different fronts today were cited as another evidence of the new policy of utmost co-operation and co-ordination of effort among the nations of the Entente.

British, French, Serbian and Russian troops each won distinct victories in every field of fighting, save the South African and Egyptian—and there was no report from these two theaters of action.

Most spectacular of the victories reported was Russia's smashing of two miles of German front, along the Rumanian-Carpathian line. The czar's forces assumed the offensive despite bitterly cold weather.

STEAMER CRAMMED WITH TROOPS IS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE, CLAIMED

Berlin.—(Via Tuckerton Wireless, Jan. 29.)—An armed transport vessel "crammed with troops" sank in ten minutes after an attack by a German submarine on January 25, said an official announcement today. The transport, which was conveyed by a French cruiser, was sunk 250 miles east of Malta by a submarine which sank three vessels in two weeks' operation in the Mediterranean.

Berlin.—(Via Tuckerton Wireless, Jan. 29.)—A German submarine in the Mediterranean, according to an official announcement today has sunk the following vessels:

January 9.—A fully armed and loaded steamer of about 5,000 tons.

January 15.—The armed British tanker Garfield of 3,800 tons, bound from Malta to Port Said, with coal and oil. The Garfield's captain was taken prisoner.

January 25.—Armed hostile transport about 250 miles east of Malta by a torpedo. The steamer was steering eastward and was conveyed by a French torpedo boat.

The steamer which was crammed with troops, sank in ten minutes, the statement said.

FAILED TO LEAVE BALLOT OPEN, LOSES $1 PROMISED FOR VOTE

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29.—Louis W. Hambo, Henry Prior, negro, and Thomas Jones, negro, pleaded guilty before United States Judge Hollister today on indictments charging them with having taken part in alleged corruption in the last election. Of the 99 indicted men, 26 have now confessed.

Hambo pleaded guilty to having made an arrangement to sell his vote, but circumstances prevented him from getting his $1, he says. He alleges that in order to get his dollar he was told to leave his ballot open when he left the voting booth. A voter friend of his, however, was caught with his ballot open and was ordered to go back in the booth and fold it. This frightened Hambo who immediately folded his ballot and thus lost his dollar.

Henry Prior pleaded guilty to selling his vote for a dollar. The name of the buyer is not disclosed in the indictment.

Thomas Jones is the first political worker to plead guilty. He pleaded guilty to a charge that he was engaged to round up the negro voters and tell them there was money in it. Twelve other alleged vote sellers are to be brought in later in the day.

Decisive Battle Coming, Says German Court Pastor

Berlin, Jan. 29.—(Via Wireless)—Where one year ago Dr. Dryander, the quiet, white-haired man who is court preacher, pleaded for an hour for peace in the services making the kaiser's birthday, this year his sermon was a fiery defense of Germany's cause and a militant plea for Germany to steel herself for the decisive battle everyone believes is coming.

In this changed spirit he reflected the sentiment of the German people. His sermon of Saturday has evoked the deepest approval everywhere.

"We know," he said, speaking at the special cathedral services commemorating the birthday of Germany's ruler, "that before us is the decisive battle which can be fought through only with the greatest sacrifices. But in all cases of the past God has helped. And God will fight for us today, through our leaders and our soldiers. We neither will nor want this war—neither the kaiser nor the people. We hoped for peace as the kaiser extended

Suggests That Lawson Be Imprisoned As A Perjurer

New York, Jan. 29.—After entering categorical denial of having had any leak information from a cabinet member or slicing a leak pool with Secretary McAdoo, Phiny Fisk suggested to the house note leak committee this afternoon that Thomas W. Lawson be imprisoned as a perjurer.

He held Lawson had "wanton" blackened a reputable name, but that perhaps "it was the result of a disordered brain."

While denying all knowledge of a leak or a deal with McAdoo, Fisk admitted previous close business relations with the secretary.

Lawson's testimony quoting Archibald White as saying Fisk had boasted of having control over McAdoo was hotly denied and provoked this outburst from Fisk.

"This statement of Lawson's about an alleged interview with Archibald White has gone broadcast and I think that Mr. Lawson should be taken at his word and he put behind the bars for perjury, for wantonly using a reputable name as he did mine."

"I said at the time that it may be the result of a disordered brain and in that case the good Lord might take care of it in his own way."

Archibald White, named as narrator of the Fisk-McAdoo story called as the first witness after noon, but was not immediately available.

Want Probe Confined To Hunt For Leak

Republican members of the house note leak committee, resuming sessions here today, wanted the committee probe to be confined to hunting a leak. They held that last week's admitted quest for information wherewith to change the ethics and rules of the New York stock exchange was beyond the scope of the committee.

The Democratic members replied they wanted to find a leak too though they believed it proper to pursue further the question of short selling pools.

The week's program called for big men of the street as witnesses. Attorney Whipple expected to quiz them on whether there had been any leak. His advance examination, however, had served only to give him the idea that certain newspaper men passed along the confidential word that Secretary Lansing gave them in Washington concerning the note.

Representative Bennett, Republican, claimed to have a "paper" that might prove to be very illuminating as to a leak on the note, but refused to make it public at once.

Bennett admitted this forenoon that the mysterious "paper" he had talked of yesterday was a clearing house sheet, but he refused to say what trader was involved or whether it indicated there was any cabinet leak.

The committee held a secret conference before the open meeting. Representative Chipfield said there were no personal animosities in the committee, although he held that the Republicans and Democrats had not fully coincided as to policy. On the other hand, Democrats held that Chipfield was responsible for reports indicating partisan differences.

WILL GO ON HUNGER STRIKE IF CONVICTED

New York, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, sister of Mrs. Ethel Byrne, will go to trial in special sessions, Brooklyn, today, charged with circulating birth control information—the same charge on which Mrs. Byrne is serving a sentence of thirty days on Blackwell's Island, and which led to her hunger strike. Five hundred babies, wheeled and carried by their mothers, will escort Mrs. Sanger to court, she announced, and will accompany her to a mass meeting at Carnegie Hall after court.

Mrs. Sanger expects to be convicted. She will not deny having distributed birth control information. Miss Fania Mondell, an assistant, also will be placed on trial and also expects to be convicted.

Both women, if convicted and sentenced, are expected to apply for writs of habeas corpus to enable them to attend the Carnegie Hall protest meeting.

Mrs. Sanger and her assistant have promised to hunger strike. They have declared they will neither eat nor drink. Correction Commissioner Burdette G. Lewis, however, declared there will be no waiting for Mrs. Sanger to become weakened. Prison officials say she will be fed after two days if she becomes weakened.

Conflicting reports regarding the condition of Mrs. Byrne are coming from prison authorities and friends of the militant birth-control hunger-striker. Commissioner Lewis declared Mrs. Byrne is in a satisfactory condition and that the hunger strike has been virtually broken. Bulletins issued by him state that Mrs. Byrne has made no objection to forcible feeding. She is being fed regularly.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sanger stated she had received definite and reliable information that her sister was in an extremely serious condition.

"I know she was unconscious for twenty-four hours," she exclaimed. "She was expectorating blood from the injured membranes of her throat."

among the Japanese for a real vital religion.

In China many idol temples have been turned into schools and churches. All that is necessary to assure a full house, Rev. Strecker said, was to announce a Christian meeting. Eighteen thousand of the scholarly class have in the past year been enrolled to study the bible.

Chinese village schools in eight counties have been turned over to reorganize on Christian lines with full permission to teach the bible. Thirty-five per cent of the people of India, every year for the past ten years, have become Christians. During the past year 30,000 are recorded in the Methodist church alone. One hundred and fifty thousand have been refused membership for lack of workers. "Think of a church with a waiting list of 1,000." Such a church exists in India, Rev. Strecker declared. There are 3,000,000 Christians in India, today.

High caste Brahmins are being converted. Few of them openly profess Christianity, because it means to them loss of wealth and prestige. They become outcasts from all castes, Rev. Strecker closed his sermon with the pathetic story of Lizzie Johnson, of Casey, Ill., who when a child of 12, heard a missionary from Africa, say that for fifty dollars an African slave girl could be saved for Christ. Shortly after this, she became a hopeless invalid, forced to lie flat on her back. She had pledged herself to give fifty dollars to this cause and so she began to piece a quilt. For years no one took enough interest in the girl and her quilt to buy or sell it for her. She was not idle, but had had bookmarks printed, with scripture quotations and sold. She raised twenty thousand dollars from the sale of bookmarks during the 14 years of life flat on her back.

A bishop heard the story of the girl and her quilt and on the strength of it raised large sums for the cause of missions. After the girl's death, her family raised five thousand dollars from the sale of the bookmarks, which they gave to foreign missions as a memorial.

World Is Ripe For Work Of The Missionary, Says Preacher

(BY LOUISE GRISWOLD) Selfishness, greed, envy and suspicion are the real causes on both sides of the great war in Europe. The principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ are not applied by the warring nations. Bitterness, prejudice, hatred are implanted in the hearts of these nations," declared Rev. C. Lloyd Strecker, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, in his sermon Sunday morning on "The Church and the Nations." Instead of fostering prejudices and wrong views against other nations the foreign missionary encourages the opposite principle. He goes as a brother to overcome the bridge of different education and standpoint. In the non-Christian nations he brings new commerce, and Christianizes the form of government and the result is peace, an exchange of goods, of ideas, and all nations are led in progress, continued Rev. Strecker. "Never was a time," he said, "when the principles of the foreign missionary is as pertinent as today. Foreign missions encourage right racial feelings. They will help nations to have the right national feeling without jealousy." "The great outstanding fact of the missionary world today is the collapse of Islam. The great war has destroyed its power," Rev. Strecker said. "Christianity is the only religion which made a serious attempt to convert Mohammedans.

"The Mohammedan hopes of a world deity, expired with the deposition in 1908, of the Sultan of Turkey, a staunch Mohammedan. The Arabs have arisen against the Turks, and there is no longer unity among the prophet's followers. Never was there a time since the prophet lived that the church of Jesus Christ, had had such an opportunity to win the Mohammedan.

"Japan," he said, "is a nation prospecting for a religion. The contest is between Christianity and nothing." In a certain school 3,000 young Japanese men are agnostics, 15,000 atheists, a small number Shintoists and 500 made no declaration. There is a longing

First Presbyterian Church Will Soon Be 100 Years Old

When Portsmouth was but a lusty, young little village of fifty homes, a few rough and irregular streets, and with but few conveniences, there was a meeting of a group of citizens held at the old court house, at which the corner-stone of Presbyterianism in this city was laid.

This was nearly one hundred years ago. Coming down to the exact date, it was May 24, 1817, and it was upon this day that the First Presbyterian church was founded.

In just a few months this great, virile institution, which occupies one of the foremost places in the religious circles of the city will be one hundred years old. The centennial ceremonies will be long remembered by the congregation.

Already plans are under way for the occasion. A committee comprising the following members was appointed to make all arrangements: Harry Johnson, Dr. Merchant S. Bush, Miss Margaret Ricker, Dr. S. D. Ruggles, Dr. W. D. Tremper, Miss Nora Wilhelm and George D. Seudeler.

This committee will meet frequently and perfect plans. Several things have been outlined, but nothing has been definitely decided upon. The First Presbyterian church, history says, was founded May 24, 1817. Rev. Stephen Lindsley, the first minister, had charge of the organization.

At this time Portsmouth boasted a population of about 250. Being a new country with great prospects for development in every business, the people had great faith in the future and most everything that was organized, those in charge took into consideration the future.

Upon such rugged and strong principles was the First Presbyterian church founded.

Presbyterian doctrines had been discussed by the people many months before this time. Speakers from other communities were brought in. Rev. William Williamson, Rev. James Gilliland and Rev. Oaks were among those who came to deliver sermons to those interested in the principles of the church.

The meeting at which the organization was effected was held at the old court house, which stood on Market street. The charter members were: Josiah Morton, Mrs. Nancy Morton, Davis Mitchell, William Russell, Ruth Russell, John Galloway, and wife, Moses Baird, Elizabeth Emory, James Logan, Mary Williams, James Abbott and Nancy Lindsley.

A few weeks later Josiah Morton, Davis Mitchell and William Russell were elected elders. They were ordained July 13, the same year, by Rev. Lindsley. At the same time John Lawson, who had served as elder at the Mount Bethel Congregation church, Virginia, was appointed to serve in the newly organized church as elder.

For five long years the sturdy little congregation gathered at the court house to hold services. The little old court house was not an ideal place for church services, but its congregation was determined that their new institution should live and become a power in the community.

On Second street, just west of Market street, a small frame church, the first in Portsmouth, was erected by the congregation at a cost of $1,651.73. The church was 43 by 30 feet in dimensions.

In 1840 an addition was built to the structure, which added 18 feet to the building.

Eleven years later, the present church was built at the corner of Third and Court streets. Since that date a handsome new addition has been added and the entire building has been remodeled.

In 1894 a new cupola was placed on the brick building, which had been built in 1851. This was again replaced last summer. Workmen, in charge of the construction found a gold lavaliere interwoven in a bird's nest.

In 1880, between $3,000 and $6,000 was spent in remodeling the church and in December, 1893, a fine new pipe organ was installed.

Rev. David S. Tappan preached the sermon at the seventy-fifth anniversary exercises, which were held December 24, 1892. At this service a statement was made that the church had raised and expended in 25 years about $152,000.

Ministers serving the First Presbyterian church since it was organized: Stephen Lindsley, 1817 to 1824; J. Wood, 1825 to 1828; Eleazar Brainard, 1827 to 1838; Alex. H. Brown, 1833 to 1841; Aaron Williams, 1841 to 1844; Hiram Bingham, 1844 to 1846; David Cushing, 1846 to 1849; Marcus Lieke, 1849 to 1853; E. P. Pratt, 1853 to 1856; D. P. Putnam, assistant pastor, 1870 to 1871; H. A. Ketchum, associate pastor, 1872 to 1876; Rev. J. I. Blackburn, 1886 to 1889; Rev. David S. Tappan, 1890 to 1899; Rev. Frank Arnold, 1900; Rev. J. E. Elder, Rev. J. W. Dunning, 1906-1916; Rev. Merchant S. Bush, 1916.

REVIVALS

MANLY CHURCH

Two splendid services were held at Manly on Sunday. The morning service was featured by a duet, "The Heart That Was Broken For Me" by Miss Reba Kennedy and Mrs. Edna Davis. The glory of the Christian life was beautifully presented by Dr. Grimes, the pastor, in the sermon, "The Robing Rooms of the Saints." The texts were Rev. 3:18 and Phil. 2:12-13. Dr. Grimes compared the New Testament to the Capital building at Columbus, the four gospels representing the four entrances to the rotunda, and the other books of the New Testament being regarded as the different rooms of the building.

The first room is the disrobing room. Paul in Phil. 3:5-7 tells what he had to remove, the things in which he took such pride. So we on coming to Christ must, in the disrobing room, strip ourselves of all that belongs to the old self-life. We can not bring with us any of the old sins and self-gratification that belong to the worldly life.

Next we pass into the robing room, where, stripped of all that belongs to the old life, we put on the righteousness of God through faith in Christ Jesus. The holiness of Christ will be counted as our righteousness if we give over all to Him, Phil. 3:9. Then we pass into the room of intimate fellowship, Phil. 3:10. Now we know Him, not merely about Him. He knows all about us and we have communion and fellowship with Him.

Then finally we reach the Christian's reward, the room of confident hope and anticipation, Phil. 3:20-21. Our conversation is then in heaven. Through the greatest miracle of the ages, the sinner has become the saint. Science discovered the theory of "the survival of the fittest" but God has brought about the glorious realization of a "revival of the fittest."

ent at evening service. Following a rousing song service, Dr. Grimes and Prof. Weaver sang "Nailed To the Cross," the congregation joining on the choros. The subject for the evening was "Commercialism In Soul Values." Matthew 16:26. "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" Dr. Grimes presented a vivid picture of the value of an immortal soul and the importance of its salvation. He spoke in part as follows:

"This is a problem that every person must work out for himself, the value of your soul. Tonight we are going to make a credit page for the world and one for the soul. All the definitions that could be secured from this congregation for the term 'world' could be grouped into three classes. The first item on the world's credit page is 'material things,' the ownership of property. In this age everybody is trying to acquire wealth. Suppose you were the greatest financial genius the world ever knew and were able to accumulate all the wealth of the world, of what value will it be in the judgment day?

"The second item on the credit page of the world is pleasure. God wants everybody to be happy. He is a laughing God; He laughs in the sunbeams, the tinkle of the brooks, the songs of the birds, in all the beauties that surround us. But there is a world's diameter between happiness which is the delight of being in harmony with God, and pleasure, which is the gratification of a moment's passion.

"The third item to the world's credit is honor and fame. The desire for honor is all very proper but it easily becomes a disease and as such always results in disappointment. Emily Dickinson has said, 'Fame is a bee—it has a song, it has a sting, and alas it has a wing.' If we are most honored of all the world, what will it avail at the judgment?

"Now we will write a credit page for the soul. There are no standards of value to compute the worth of an immortal soul. But we can approximate it by seeing what God thinks of it. How does God value a soul?

"First: He regards it as worth so much that He stamped it with His own image in the very beginning. God would not put His imprint on anything not of the highest value. The soul has the powers of thought, feeling and volition. These are three things that God does. If not disturbed or marred by sin they will make us like God.

"Second: God thought enough of the soul of man to fit up a world for him. He made everything as beautiful as it could be made, just for man.

"Third: God paid an infinite price for the soul when it had sinned against Him. John 3:16, 'For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.' No one has been able to grasp the full meaning of the Calvary scene; we can't explain the mystery of His wonderful love. But He loved you enough to let His only son die for your sin.

"Fourth: He thinks enough of us that He employs us to help Him build up the kingdom of righteousness in every human soul. That is the main business of every saved soul. Wesley has said, 'Our mission is to spread scriptural holiness in all the lands.' How much God thinks of us that He lets us help Him in His work.

"Fifth: He is fitting up heaven specially for the coming of His sanctified and redeemed. Heaven as it was good enough for the angels, but when He was expecting souls bearing His restored image heaven had to be made ready. Jesus tells us that He goes to prepare a place for us.

"Now we have both credit pages; let us strike a balance. What will you take and sell out this soul that God values so highly? A man in a country store once talked very loudly against Christianity and offered to sell his share for $5. A man who had taken no part in the discussion said, 'I'll give you $5 if you'll write and sign the agreement I dictate.' The man took pencil and paper and wrote as the other man dictated: 'I, A. B., in consideration of $5 paid me this day by C. D., do hereby renounce all interest, present and future in Jesus Christ, that I will not regard Him will nor claim any part in any provision which He has made for the soul of man. But when he had finished he hesitated, said, 'I'd rather not sign that,' and left the store. Would you sell your soul for $5? But many of you are just frittering it away. Accept His salvation tonight."

TAKE RHEUMATISM RIGHT OUT OF JOINTS

Indiana Physician Claims That Rheumatism Can Now Be Successfully Treated

Dr. S. Whitehall, of South Bend, Ind., has succeeded in perfecting a formula for rheumatism which is said to be a remarkable remedy for this terrible nerve-racking affliction. Dr. Whitehall's claim that rheumatism is merely a symptom of a condition is endorsed by progressive physicians. He also has proven that exposure to drafts of air, sudden chills, damp, changing weather and faulty diet are among the chief causes of the agonizing, shooting pains in the muscles of the legs, back and joints, crick in back, stiff neck, painful swellings, gout, lumbago and similar conditions, and in his practice, covering many years, Dr. Whitehall has treated thousands of rheumatic cases of all degrees with astonishing results. The action of this great remedy is wonderful. It goes straight to the seat of trouble and dissolves uric acid and other poisons which are then eliminated through the regular channels. Every sufferer, whether the pains are slight or severe, should begin taking this treatment as quickly as possible.

TONIC FOR GROWING GIRLS

Most growing girls need a tonic, especially during the years when they are sprouting up most rapidly and when their appetites are most frisky. A diet of tea and candy will ruin any girl's chance of future happiness. A plentiful and scientifically correct diet might mean all requirements for their own health. Hence the need for a tonic. Almost every daughter is given a tonic during her period of rapid growth but because your daughter does not actually break down you do not feel a doctor and the best thin and pale, drowsy child that can be put on a diet, eat the wrong things, eat too fast, get too little out of her exercise and perhaps have a Virus Dance, or a nervous breakdown. A great responsibility rests on parents and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best and most convenient tonic to add them in bringing their daughters to healthy and happy womanhood. They supply needed elements to the blood, and enable it to meet the unusual demands upon it and help to lay a foundation for future health. The price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is fifty cents per box. Your own doctor, girl's teacher or the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Leak Probe

Meantime, Mrs. Ruth Thomson Visconti, mystery woman in the case, remains in Washington, but the committee expects to call her when it returns there, probably next week.

The most strenuous efforts to side track either her or parts of her possible testimony not directly bearing on the leak have been evident for a week or more. The situation is such, however, that the committee will make no effort to squelch any real information she may have concerning a leak.

The committee decided to call as first witness Pliny Fisk, banker, mentioned previously as boasting that he had control over Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

Fisk Denies Making Boast
Pliny Fisk denied ever making such a boast.

Testifying as first witness Fisk was questioned about an alleged meeting with Archibald White, of which Lawson testified White told him. According to Lawson's quotation of White, Fisk had bragged he could even get McAdoo out of bed at one A. M.

"The meeting described never took place," said the witness. "I can't deny to strongly—I want to use the most unequivocal language—I never mentioned McAdoo's name to Mr. White or he to me."

As for knowing McAdoo, Fisk said he had had relations with the secretary when the latter was building the Hudson tubes, but added, "since he became secretary our paths have seldom crossed."

Fisk was empowered to close up McAdoo's business affairs when he went to the cabinet and he did this. At that time McAdoo turned over his securities—mostly bank stocks—and secured a $112,000 loan. This was liquidated by January 1, 1914, and since then, Fisk said, there has been no dealings between the two, except perhaps "a trivial thousand or two dollars, such as getting something for his (McAdoo's) children."

"I have leaned backward not to have any relations with the secretary—that is not to make any requests," said Fisk.

He admitted there has been some minor letters between them since McAdoo went to the cabinet, but none about business matters, except strictly as between Fisk's and McAdoo's children.

Fisk denied emphatically that he had any favors from McAdoo, above what any other banker had. Attorney Whipple then delved into the question of the federal board lease of quarters owned by Fisk.

Fisk admitted he had talked with McAdoo about the lease.

"I told him the advantages of the place and said I would like to lease the offices if they were adequate and proper," said Fisk.

The suggestions of a split on leak profits between a "Senator O" McAdoo and Fisk were denied emphatically and Fisk added this his records showed positively no dealings during the leak period with any cabinet member or other high officials.

Fisk submitted sheets and names covering the leak period and swore that the names were real; that he had no new customers during the leak period, but that the firm had also done business on its own account. Fisk revealed that Jesse Salvis, a Washington correspondent whom he thought had been with the Wall Street Journal, had in the past posted the Fisk firm on bond matters or information directly concerning the Fisk house. Salvis' successor posted them on routine matters, too, but Fisk could not at once name the successor.

He promised to produce any message from that correspondent during the leak week, but swore he had no advance tip or leak on the note.

Death to the Americans!"

As a result of the outbreak the stewards of the Juarez race track, owned by Americans, issued a statement that racing had been discontinued for the season, "as a precautionary measure." The meeting had been only half completed. The owners of the three hundred horses are bringing their stables across the river today. The race track plant, valued at a million dollars, is owned by Price McKimsey, of Cleveland, James Corigan and James Butler of New York and Matt Winn, of Louisville, Ky.

The rioting yesterday started as the result of a misunderstanding when United States officials began enforcing stricter quarantine regulations because of the increase of typhus at Juarez. More than four hundred women employed at this side of the border gathered at the international bridge. Under the new order they were not allowed to cross until 7 A. M. and then only after rigid inspection.

On the western front there were three successful raids—two by British forces near Neuville, St. Yvoast and Le Transloy; and one by the French, around Verdun.

From Meadbrook came word today that General Sarraill's combination of French-British and Serbian forces, had struck out into more advancing toward Philip.

Not One Foot of Ground Gained By French, Say Germans
Berlin—(Via Sayville Wireless, Jan. 29.)—Not one foot of ground was gained by the French," today's official statement declared in describing violent battles around Verdun, 30 miles from the Verdun region.

"On the west bank of the Meuse during the day there was lively fighting," the statement said. "In the morning the French tried to advance by surprise without fire preparation, against positions on Height 304, which we captured January 25. They streamed back in our fire, which began immediately.

"From noon on, strong artillery worked upon our trenches."

"After violent fire upon our lines, three more French attacks ensued, all of which broke down without success."

Fight Looms In House Over "Sheriff Bill"

Columbus, Jan. 29.—A real fight loomed in the house of representatives today over the bill to require sheriffs to feed jail prisoners at cost.

The house committee on fees and salaries, was slated to report out the bill with a recommendation for indefinite postponement.

Representative Brown, Cuyahoga county, its author, said today he would make a fight on the floor to have the committee report thrown into the discard and the bill sent to the house committee on county affairs where a harder fight will be made to get favorable action.

Mayo Fesler, secretary of the Cleveland Civic league, which is backing the measure, promised to be on hand with figures showing that sheriffs in some counties make thousands of dollars in addition to their salaries by charging the county the present legal minimum of 45 cents for each prisoner per day when the actual cost is less than 35 cents.

The house having passed several appropriation bills which are still pending in the senate, still are to appropriate roughly $800,000,000. All of this is for preparedness—$400,000,000 for fortifications and $400,000,000 for the army and navy bills, one of which is expected to come up the middle of the week.

U. S. To Stand Pat On "Armed Ship" Decision

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Further armament of British ships, including guns forward, will not necessarily mean their government will recognize them as subject to submarine attack without warning, it was said at the state department today.

For the time being the department stated today this government will stand pat on its decision regarding the armed ships, published last winter and just before Germany announced it would attack all merchant ships regardless of armament.

The "purpose or intent" of the armament as well as its character would have to be considered in each specific case.

It is understood the department considers the whole armed ship question an open one, and if a change in the character of merchant armament is made, the department may issue new port regulations.

A new element in the question, it was said, is the fact that German submarines now carry powerful deck guns, a feature not in evidence when the submarine controversy first opened.

This increased offensive power of submarines might warrant a change in legal defensive armament of merchant men, it was said.

To Run-Down Women

Detroit Woman Tells How To Regain Strength

Detroit, Mich. "I was in such a run-down condition I had no ambition to do anything. I had a chronic cough and cold and nothing seemed to give me any relief, until a friend advised me to try Vinol, which I did. Splendid Address Made By Dr. Poteat To Men Of City

That the men of Portsmouth are interested in Christian work was shown Sunday afternoon when close to 500 men filled the main auditorium of Second Presbyterian church to hear Dr. E. M. Poteat, president of Furman University, Greenville, S. C. deliver a special address on the "The Christian Doctrine of Property."

Dr. Poteat sent his facts home by his true-to-life illustrations, easily and clearly understood by every one present. He is a fine orator and the convincing manner in which he discussed his subject Sunday afternoon has won him a place in the hearts of all men in the Peerless City who had the pleasure of hearing him.

Irving Drew presided as chairman of the meeting. John Peebles led the singing with David Jones at the organ. Rev. B. F. Caudill, pastor of the First Baptist church, had charge of the opening prayer. Dr. Drew introduced the speaker, telling how he met him last summer at Worcester, O., where Dr. Poteat addressed returned missionaries, college professors and interested church workers at a public conference. So impressed was Mr. Drew with Dr. Poteat's address that he invited him to come to Portsmouth. The first thought of Mr. Drew was to have Dr. Poteat address the men of Second church but a second thought occurred to him to have Dr. Poteat address all men of Portsmouth, the subject being one of deep interest to all men.

Dr. Poteat said: "I have been addressing missionaries, college professors, ministers and college students for years but I now desire to reach the business people of our prosperous nation. I mean to set before you some things in which every man in the country is interested. The first thing that arises in every mind is 'Is there a Christian Doctrine of Property?'"

"There is a Christian doctrine of God, a Christian doctrine of man, a Christian doctrine of the church. That there is a Christian doctrine of property is what I mean to prove to you this afternoon. The widespread practiced error in Christianity is the notion that the Kingdom of Heaven means Heaven. The Kingdom is here below."

"The Christian doctrine of property has not occupied the minds of Christian men. It has found a place in the minds of some anti-Christians and in the minds of men who are not even in the church. Society is a proof that there is a Christian doctrine of property. Acts 4:32—Neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common."

mon. Acts 4:34—Neither was there any among them that lacked; for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold. Acts 4:35—Distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

"This is the first group of Christians we have record of as practicing the Christian doctrine of property. St. Matthew 6:19—'Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth. For where your treasure is there your heart will be also.'"

"It is not his purse but in his character that a man is rich. We will discuss the matter from four viewpoints, the idea of property, basis of property, factors of production and principle of distribution. If man were alone on earth he could not produce anything. Property is the basis of relationship. The basis of property has shifted with civilization. In savage times it was grip. In the barbaric times there were tombs and w."

A MEDICAL MONGOOOS

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation. A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden up on the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned, the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from auto-intoxication, or ptomaine poisoning. Something is wrong with the liver, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, skin or eyes yellow, the water is scant and high colored, containing "brick-dust" deposits and bile pigments. At such times one should drink plenty of water between meals, and a pint of hot water before breakfast, and occasionally take a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, first extracted and put in ready-to-use form by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Do not take mineral oils or so-called "Russian Oil," for the experiments by R. P. McDonald have shown as lately reported in a government publication of the U. S. Public Health Service, that mineral oil may act as an irritant that produces gastro-intestinal disturbances and that it may cause tissue proliferation, stimulating cancer.

The next important organ to be reckoned with is the kidneys. Kidney disease carries away a large percentage of our people. What can the ordinary person do to properly balance bodily health? The answer is not easy, but I advise everybody to eat less meat, eat coarse, plain food, with plenty of vegetables, drink plenty of water between meals, and take an uric acid solvent, such as Anuric (double strength), before meals for awhile. Anuric can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me what's the reason bakers always put a hole in angel food cake? Is it to make it lighter, or why?

INQUISITION.
I presume it's for the same reason they put a hole in a doughnut.

Dear Dolly Wise—Please tell me if there wasn't a state law passed which compels the use of weights instead of measures. And also if this same law wasn't tried in the court of Scioto county and found to be unconstitutional. A READER.

A grocer is not compelled to sell by weight unless a customer requests him to do so.

Sciotoville, O.—Dear Miss Wise—As I am going to have a small party, I would like to serve some kind of refreshments. Would pickles and cake be suitable? And please tell me in tonight's paper how to serve these two things.

MRS. SWEET PICKLE.
Pickles and sandwiches and coffee would be better. Have a lap lunch, or you might serve it buffet fashion.

A Reader would like to know the address of the man who weaves silk portiers and rugs and who formerly resided on Twelfth street, above Officers. Phone 60.

Dear Dolly—Where would there be a good place to go to get a job? That is, where there is lots of manufacturing shops, and what kind of work would you choose if you were about eighteen years old. I have been tending to the school house, but I can't make a living for my family. All the boys say I ought to draw a pension for the work I do.

A LUCASVILLE FLUNCY.
Why not come to Portsmouth? I don't know what you are fitted for, so can't very well advise you what to do. However, I will advise you to learn a good trade of some kind. Don't be a "flunky" all your life.

ONE INTERESTED.
If you can't feel the difference, it will be hard to explain it to you. However, you will find both words in the dictionary.

If anyone knows the name and address of the Detroit firm that had an agent here last spring taking or-no danger of her leaving you. Why don't you try staying home with the children, at least for a month and let her "god" all she wants. I'll wager she'll soon get tired of it when she sees you don't care how often she goes out.

Lucasville Sport—I refuse to print your song in the Doe Koko column. However, if you will revise it, and eliminate the "slang," I'll be glad to use it.

Meet Me At Nye's Fountain, 1241

Five Days of "White" At Andersons

At this time of year all feminine eyes are anxious to see the new white goods and garments for the coming season. It has been the custom of the Anderson Store to act as guide and demonstrator in things white as in other lines. This annual White Event shows you what you will want and at prices we know are low.

The dainty undermuslins and the pretty white materials are always attractive, but now more than at any other time. Winter will soon relinquish its hold and the warm spring sunshine will be incentive to abandon the heavy wearing apparel and don the white.

Now is the time to prepare for the coming spring months. During these dreary days it is actually a pleasure to plan and work with the white materials for your spring wardrobe.

Lingerie Expressive of the Latest Mode

All ready for the signal to commence selling, our second floor section of women's muslin underwear is loaded to the guards with scores and scores of garments all bought before the markets had advanced to the present high water mark. Nothing can be made by putting off the purchase of these garments and everything will be in your favor if you purchase now. The garments are now fresh and unhandled and the assortments greater than they will be at any future time. When present lots are sold and we are compelled to go into the market and purchase new merchandise, prices must necessarily be higher. Now we have splendid assortments of muslin petticoats, corset covers, gowns, drawers, etc., and at prices that are extremely reasonable.

The New White Materials For Dress, Blouse or Skirt

Since the first of January at frequent intervals we have received shipments of the new yard piece goods in white. Already we are cutting them and many women are sewing and preparing blouses, skirts and dresses for the Spring.

This White Event is not in the nature of a sale so much as it is an exposition. Prices are not reduced but owing to early purchases, the prices are lower than the market justifies. However, if we care to give this price inducement to our early shoppers and they care to accept it we will both profit.

The new Skirtings, White Flaxons, Fancy Waistings and Suitings, Embroideries and Lace now bid you welcome.

WHITE WAISTINGS in numbers of splendid new styles in the new wide stripes and other designs at 25c, 35c, 39c, 65c the same old popular prices of

Looking For A Place To Work

Likewise Finds A Housekeeper Who Really Has A System

(By Louise Griswold)

Seven o'clock on the evening of another day found me ascending some icy steps, feeling much like an Arctic explorer. But when I got inside the nice warm, well-lighted kitchen, and received by a pleasant woman, I began to feel better.

Everything in Mrs. Z's plan of housekeeping spelled "System" to the last letter. I am going to tell you about it, for many might copy it profitably. I believe. Bread was to be baked twice a week, on Wednesday and Saturday. She had a fine method, which takes just five hours and the dough does not have to be set the night before. On Monday the washing was to be done, on Tuesday the ironing, on Wednesday the silver was to be cleaned, the windows washed and any other incidental tasks performed, on Thursday the upstairs was to be cleaned, on Friday the downstairs, while on Saturday the kitchen would be cleaned after the baking and preparing for Sunday was finished. The laundry was in the barn and the clothes could be dried there, too.

Could I get done my work in time to do some sewing for myself occasionally, I asked. I liked to make my own clothes. I was assured that I would have time enough, but that the former girl was only ready-made clothes.

"You wouldn't need to worry about the bread baking. I could easily show you and help with that. I prefer a young girl whom I can teach to do things as I like to have them done," my prospective employer affirmed.

"When I am not here, I would expect you to answer telephone calls.

When I am here I answer them and you would be expected to answer only the door," she continued.

"My husband and I would not ordinarily be away from home more than one evening a week, but when we would be out more than that I would try to tell you beforehand, so that you could arrange accordingly."

"We could try to plan our afternoons agreeably to each other so that you could have some of them free," she said further.

"Where could I have my company?" I asked. "Here in the kitchen," I was told. The house, she said, was not arranged so that I could have any other place. The only other room downstairs, besides the dining-room and kitchen, was in use.

I said I would not like very well to have my callers in the kitchen.

"That is up to you whether you would like it or not," she answered in an even voice. "My former girl did not have any callers here. If she had men friends, I never saw them," she said.

I insisted that I would not like to entertain in the kitchen, so she told me that if I thought I would rather get a place where I could have the use of some other room, I had better look for it instead of considering her home.

Another of my applications was made at a boarding house. The house was too crowded for the girl to have a room, so she must live elsewhere. Also there was only one living room, and dining-room and kitchen. The boarders would be in the living room and there was only the dining-room and kitchen left, which the boarding-house keeper said I would not want. No place here for a girl to entertain her "man friend." She would just have to room out. For five dollars, she was to be able to go ahead with the cooking, whether the mistress was at home or not. She must do the washing and ironing, and be on hands to serve breakfast to some of the boarders at 5:30 a. m. The girl would not have to get Sunday evening supper, and whenever she was through with her work she could have her time to herself, provided she was back in time to get the next meal. The girl did not have to wait table after the dishes were brought in.

"I have been doing all my own work," around the woman, "but it does not give me any freedom to go out. I only have five boarders at present, but usually I have 15."

"Why did your last girl leave?" I asked. "Oh, she stopped to go to business college," was the answer. "I have almost decided to try to get along myself and save the money. I can't seem to find a girl who can do the work, either," she continued.

"A girl came here for one day and left." I wanted to know why, and was told that the girl probably saw that she could not do the cooking. The excuse she had given was that the work was too hard. "A girl can't expect to get pay if she doesn't work," declared the woman.

"I can't give a beginner as much," she said, when she found that I had never worked out. "I would have to see how well you can do, first." I was to call her up the next day, when she would have decided whether or not to be harassed by another servant girl.

I applied to Mrs. X, who wanted a young girl to help her and give only part time, going home at night. Mrs. X had a baby, whom she entrusted to no one. So the girl would never have to stay afternoons or "evenings to care for her." She insisted to me that she wanted a "young" girl. If she could get a young girl to do the lighter work she could arrange her cooking and housework so that she would have some time in which to sew for herself and sisters. In her household, besides her husband and baby, were some relatives.

She proposed to pay the young girl from seventy-five cents to a dollar, and would have the washing done away from the house. If she did not succeed in getting such a girl of 16 or 17 she would consider an older one. She had had one who did all the washing and ironing and cooking for three dollars.

Where do you suppose Mrs. X said I could entertain my "company"? Why, in the parlor. I kept my seat on her kitchen chair with difficulty at this announcement. But it was what she said. Yes, the reason, I discovered, seemed to be that the living-room and dining-room were thrown together, and the family preferred to sit there, for in winter it was better heated. Yet the parlor was the front room, and was set off from the other, and this also meant the use of the front door. However, I lost this chance, because Mrs. X was waiting to hear from others.

"I have had five calls this morning, and my ad was just in last night," Mrs. X said. "I suppose there would have been more, if we had not had our phone disconnected from about eight o'clock last night until about nine this morning."

BETWEEN OURSELVES

This store means to lead—not follow. Its principles were not formed by adoption or by voluntary acceptance. Originality—the blazing of new trails in Service and enlargement of the paths of helpfulness in the variety of merchandise carried in stock—was the main purpose of the founders. We plan constantly, but our course of action is determined by what others have left undone not by what they have done. If we gather the ideas of others and, by combining them, try to make this store "best," we might expect to awake in the morning and find that in following—not leading—we were still further behind. When we lose the power to originate we lose prestige and the store influence for good goes backward. We mean to lead, not to follow, here.

STORE EDITORIALS

The enthusiasm of the members of this store organization never wanes. Nothing can dampen the ardor with which they enter upon the duties of their work-a-day. Let conditions arise demanding painstaking endeavor, perseverance and diligence, and they rise to the exacting demands of the occasion with eagerness, keen to meet and conquer. The trained habit of overcoming obstacles, no matter how insurmountable they may appear, has enlarged the vision of the store force as a whole—not individually. The "inventive mind" is always at work here—conditions have no effect whatever on the store enthusiasm.

The New York club has claimed Joe Wagner, the Red infielder who was sold to Kansas City, and Joe will report to McGraw at Martin next month. Wagner.

Several other cigarettes may taste good too; but——You can't get the fullest enjoyment from smoking unless your cigarette is also COMFORTABLE.

That is probably the main reason why so many men are selecting Fatimas for their steady smoke. Because Fatimas are found to be truly comfortable—not only to your throat and tongue, but AFTER smoking, also. Even if you happen to smoke more than usual, Fatimas never remind you of it. Their delicately balanced Turkish blend of tested-pure tobaccos takes care of that.

Your first package will show you how comfortable a sensible cigarette can be.

CARNATION DAY

Lest we forget!
Monday, January 29, marked the birthday anniversary of the beloved martyred President William McKinley. It was Carnation Day in the State of Ohio out of respect to the memory of the martyred president, whose favorite flower was the carnation. Just a few years ago thousands of carnations on this day decorated coat lapels, but during the past few years the little token of esteem has not been kept up so consistently.

UNDECIDED WHEN HE WILL MOVE TO ASHLAND

S. Cole's Peables, who was recently elected general manager of the Ashland Iron and Mining company, said Saturday evening that he had not decided when he would move to Ashland to assume his new duties. Mr. Peables has been active in the management of The Peables Paving Brick company and The Portsmouth Tumbler company for many years, being associated with John Peables, and his departure, along with his most estimable family, will be greatly regretted.

CATCHING COLD—A BAD HABIT

We all know people who at the first cold snap begin to sneeze and cough with their "regular winter cold." They regard it simply as an unpleasant but necessary inconvenience, never realizing that even the mildest cold or cough is dangerous, and if allowed to run on unchecked more than likely develops into something really serious. There is only one safe way, at the first symptom—hoarseness, tickling in the throat, difficulty in breathing, etc., purchase a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at your nearest druggist and take regularly according to directions on the bottle. You will generally be relieved within 24 hours. 25c per bottle at druggists or you can try it free by writing A. C. Meyer & Co., Baltimore, Md.

THIEF ENTERS LOCAL DRYGOODS STORE, GETS AWAY WITH $60

Someone familiar with the various departments of The Portsmouth Dry Goods company's store on Chillicothe street succeeded in effecting an entrance in the rear of the store early Sunday morning and escaped with about $60 in cash and two safety razors. The police believe that it was the work of someone familiar with the details of the store. The police say that the thief opened a window in the rear of the store. The money which was taken was mostly in small denominations. It was rumored Sunday that the thief got $100 in money and had completely ransacked the store.

Huntington Wins In Checker Tournament

Huntington, W. Va., checker-players came down to Portsmouth Saturday and left with several scalps tucked under their belts. The crack five from Huntington played local players five games each at the Masonic Club Saturday afternoon and evening. Portsmouth did not have a regular team, but gamely entered the contest. There was not much of an advance notice furnished Portsmouth, so that when the Huntington team arrived there was some scrambling to get together five men. The Huntington team was composed of: Dr. O. W. Warnock, O. A. Kent, C. A. Smalling, F. W. Pinkerton and J. M. Reis. The Portsmouth team comprised: C. H. Closterman, J. A. Salmon, Marvin C. Clark, Joe Reis, L. L. Finney, Charles Book, Dr. P. M. Stewart and Earl T. Adams. Here are the scores:

The Horrible Handicap Of Poisoned Blood

The Innocent Suffer Even Unto the Third and Fourth Generations, But Relief Is Now In Sight. It has long been accepted as a matter of course that the sins of the fathers must be suffered by innocent posterity, yet it is hard to become reconciled to this condition. The heritage of physical infirmity is a handicap under which thousands must face the battle of life. Scrofula is probably the most noticeable of the transmitted blood disorders, though there are other more severe diseases of the blood that pass from one generation to another. No matter what inherited blood taint you may be inheriting, S. S. S. offers hope. This remedy has been in general use for more than fifty years. It is purely vegetable, and contains not a particle of any chemical, and acts promptly on the blood by cutting off all traces of the taint, and restoring it to absolute purity. Some of the most distressing cases of transmitted blood poison have yielded to the treatment of S. S. S., and no case should be considered incurable until this great remedy has been given a thorough trial. S. S. S. acts as an antidote to every impurity in the blood. You can obtain it at any drug store. Our chief medical adviser will take pleasure in giving you without cost any advice that your individual case requires. MRS. GEO. BREECE DIES SUDDENLY; HUSBAND HURRIES HOME ON SPECIAL

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—When notified that his wife had died suddenly, George E. Breece, mayor of Charleston, W. Va., chartered a special train to take him back to Charleston. Mr. Breece passed through Portsmouth Sunday afternoon on passenger train No. 15 N. & W., and did not learn of his wife's death until he had reached Columbus. It was then that he arranged for a special over the T. & O. C. from Columbus to Charleston and arrived there Sunday evening. When he left home Mrs. Breece was in her usual health. Her death was attributed to heart trouble. Mrs. Breece, whose maiden name was Robinson, in addition to her husband, leaves five children: Ohlen, Terrell, Charles, Asenath and Joy, all at home. She was about 49 years old and was born and reared in Northern Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Breece were married in Waverly, where they formerly resided, and have many friends. Mrs. Breece was a most estimable woman, refined and educated, and the news of her death will be learned of here with regret. John T. Breece, of the Breece Manufacturing Company here, and a brother of Mayor George Breece, of Charleston, learned of Mrs. Breece's death last night and he left at once for that city. C. O. Breece, another brother, and who lives here, will go to Charleston Tuesday to attend the funeral services. W. W. Breece, who is also a brother, is in the East on business for the Breece Manufacturing Company of this city.

Hubert Thurman Comes Home With Pretty Bride

Va. They were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Clark and after receiving the congratulations of their friends they boarded a train for Portsmouth. Mr. Thurman stated today that he expected to enter Ohio State University next fall. Back From Auto Show William Zottmann has returned from Detroit, where he attended the annual automobile show being held there. Church Meeting

A meeting of members of the joint boards of the Second Presbyterian church will be held tonight at 7:15, in the men's parlors of the church. Business of great importance is to be discussed. Postage stamps are sold in nearly all clear shops of France.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

The biggest increase in Bible school attendance in one Sunday was recorded Sunday when the total showed an increase of 2850 over that of one week ago. Sunday's total was 6093, two of the schools again passing the 1000 mark for the first time in many months. A Rally Day brought an extra large number to Christian and a contest between men and women brought increased numbers to Trinity. Second Presbyterian and Manly came back into the 500 class. Sunday's record:

Trinity	1100
Second Presbyterian	864
Manly	516

WOMEN'S CLASS WINS AT TRINITY

(By P. V. D.) "We have met the enemy and they are ours." Niti! The women's classes of Trinity beat the men's big class to the tune of 285 to 252, giving them a majority on the day of 37. At how the women did roll in from all points of the compass and dinner or no dinner, just let the old men get their own, they were all going to Sunday school and show those men a thing or two. They surely have their "dander up", as one man said while holding a postmortem over results that his wife used 15 gallons gasoline last week in their machine while rallying their forces. Things are getting too serious to joke about it and the men have got to take up another notch in their belt and wade in or Professor Finney might as well have his measure taken for that big white apron he must wear at the banquet if beaten. The men did fine and with the room almost full with 252 live "fellers" they thought they had the women sure, and when the women's score was announced they showed they were good losers by giving an enthusiastic applause. The old original Pilgrim Singers were present Sunday morning and gave two of their numbers that made such a hit while touring the state three years ago. They sang first "That Beautiful Land", which made every one there feel like he should and must live a better life and try and reach that heavenly place. Their second number was "Don't Forget Jesus", and if this appealing song so touchingly rendered, did not pull at a man's heart-strings, there is something radically wrong. The large class put Professor Finney in fine fettle and his teaching of the lesson held the men's closest attention from start to finish. The teacher has the happy faculty of bringing the lessons down to every-day practice and his applications brought out many interesting discussions.

Look out for the "Big Push" that is to begin next Sunday. The classes are about even on total attendance and next Sunday is a critical time in the contest which runs three more Sundays. E. G. Anderson, of Seattle, Wash., was a visitor at the class. The steel men turned out in a large body and the class was delighted to have them. Preparations are being made to open the folding doors and throw the two rooms into one and the class can then seat 500 men, easily.

Many People Pass Lives In Half Sick Sort of Way.

Hundreds of persons drag along from morning until night in a listless sort of way. They eat because meals are ready—not because they relish their food. They feel tired, yet when they go to bed they roll and toss and do not sleep soundly—get up in the morning with a headache, a coated tongue. A day's work seems like a dreadful task. Mrs. E. J. Cazeau, 1816 East 62nd street, Cleveland, was one of these persons worried by half-sickness. She couldn't have said just what her trouble was, but there was no doubt that her system was run down. Often Felt Dizzy. "For months I was in a run down way," said Mrs. Cazeau. "If I walked a few blocks I wanted to sit down and rest. I felt dizzy at times. I was always tired in the mornings. Sometimes I had headache. "There was a gnawing feeling in my stomach that irritated me and altogether I felt miserable. "A hearty meal was sure to cause me distress—gas, bloating, and sometimes cramps. Often I could taste rich foods for hours after I had eaten them. Hot, bitter fluids came up in my throat and almost nauseated me. Headaches Are Gone. "Tanlac helped me a lot. I'm glad to praise this new tonic when I think of what it has done for me. Now I can eat almost anything I want. I have lots of life and ambition and feel greatly improved. My headaches are gone. I get up in the mornings feeling refreshed after a night's good sleep. I can work up stairs and down cellar without getting out of breath."

Sold in Portsmouth, Ohio, by Fisher and Streich Pharmacy. Tanlac may be obtained in the following nearby towns: New Boston, E. H. Coburn, Sciotoville, Sciotoville Pharmacy; Bloomington, H. J. A splendid audience was present last night to listen to Rev. Oakley's first of a series of five sermons on "American Idolatry." And his effort was a splendid one. He reviewed the history of idol worship that marked the worship of the heathens in foreign lands, and yet pointed to the fact that while image worship was perhaps an unknown practice in America, nevertheless idol worship was flourishing—people were worshipping money, pleasure, appetite and fashion—thereby committing as great a sin as though they were worshipping the sun, or moon or stars. He promises some startling sensations in his address next Sunday evening, when he will lecture on Money Worship. Come and hear this series of sermons.

How to Heal Skin-Diseases

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles. At any reliable druggist get a bar of resorcin ointment and a cake of resorcin soap. These are not at all expensive. With the resorcin soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resorcin ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. Almost any soap will clean the skin and hair. But those who want a soap which not only cleanses but actually heals the complexion and hair are wise to choose resorcin soap.

THE HONORABLE COURT

In court cases, where politics, in popular opinion, affects the view more than the facts developed, it is especially desirable that the judge who entertains them, be not only dependable in honor and integrity, but that his reputation and demeanor be such as to inspire public confidence in his firmness and fairness.

We have just such a situation in the election fraud indictments, which have been returned before the federal court in Cincinnati. So far as is known all the accused are Republicans and prior to their presentation by the grand jury, leaders of the local Republican party and men influential in its business affairs took such a position as to foment the general impression that it was not a prosecution, but a persecution being conducted. That is not an issue, neither is it a matter susceptible of proof or contradiction. The important, the re-assuring fact is that the man on the bench, the court, indeed, is Judge Howard Hollister. Judge Hollister is a Republican, but such is his standing, such is the discretion and impartiality, we may say the patriotic motives, the wisdom of his conduct, he has made it apparent the defendants will get a hearing in which neither favor, nor bias will have party.

It would, indeed, be a fortunate land if all its courts could administer the law and judgment in that high spirit of detachment and integrity of purpose with which the honorable court has set itself to the hearing of the cases in hand, cases the outcome of which will be eagerly awaited by the whole country.

A MATTER OF DEGREE

Theodore Roosevelt has nothing but bitter denunciation and revilement of those who would believe there should be any limit placed upon preparedness; he execrates as mollycoddles all who do not cultivate the warlike spirit and stand ready to fight, provocation offered or not.

Being the universal director and the general lawgiver, of course, he claims the divine prerogative of being the exception to the rule or departing from it, as mood or whim may suggest. Therefore he is not a coward, he is not weak when he proposes that America have the second largest navy in the world—an army of every male, fit to bear arms, and capable of whipping the whole earth we should have, according to him, but a second rate navy will do, also according to him. The citizen who can preserve a degree of equanimity and wit whenever T. R. begins to emit a terrible din, can ever appreciate the fact that as the cock-of-the-walk among nations an invincible navy, rather than an unconquerable army should be the country's reliance. The seas are open and without barriers and he who would sail them until he encounters superior force. With dominant battleships we could keep our shores free from invader and the land unscourged by hostile hosts. Wherefore does it in common sense follow that if we are going into the war game our greatest strength, our chief reliance should be in our navy. Roosevelt is obsessed with the delusion that our present "call" is to whip Germany and therefore the overwhelming army, but some day it may be our business to attend properly to England, wherefore it would be well to exceed her where she is strongest and most dominant, on the waters.

So far as we have heard Portsmouth is the only city on earth to keep a purely ornamental reservoir, and there are times when it is not so much of an ornament either, outside of the admiring eye with which some contractor regards it.

St. Louis has completed plans for the biggest sewer ever constructed. It will be thirty feet wide and twenty feet high at the beginning and forty feet high, with two arms two hundred feet wide at the outlet. Its purpose is to confine the waters of the river des Peres, a wide shallow stream, which flows through the city, and does much damage when flooded.

Fourteen thousand dollars looks like a mighty big sum to spend on the towpath, but may be it is the best thing that can be done under the conditions.

If these efficiency engineers could invent some way of distributing the waste of pluralities where they would do most good their services would be highly appreciated and munificently rewarded by political committees.

Already getting used to seeing the words bureau of public service in print and they read cosmopolitan and encouraging.

From testimony, or rather confessions being adduced before the honorable common pleas court of Scioto county we opine the next easiest thing in the world is stealing from N. & W. cars and the first disposing of the booty to junk dealers.

New York City wants all automobile horns made of the same timbre and volume as a means of safety. We can't see it that. One gets so used to a particular noise that he doesn't notice it, until it stops. The clock for instance. You never heed its ticking, but let it cease and the silence becomes disturbing.

Eggs sixty cents—cold weather they say. Tucson, Arizona, is about the hottest place on earth and there they are one dollar. Which is another why no live human being should go to Tucson.

McDONALD THE CITY OF MAGIC

Aladdin wrought no more wonderful creations with his magic lamp than modern enterprise, science and money, millions, are building.

Work has begun on McDonald, situated between Youngstown and Warren, which, when completed, will truly make her the Magic City. Having purchased several thousand acres, the Carnegie Steel company, a subsidiary of United States Steel, has begun the construction of McDonald. Every house will be either of brick or concrete with ample space, light and air. The streets will be wide and laid in brick. Through the center of the city will run a boulevard two hundred and eighty feet wide and in the center of this for its entire length will be set a park eighty feet wide, having a 100 foot roadway on either side. Every house will be supplied with gas, electricity and running water and the rent for dwellings will be on the basis of $2.50 a month for each room in it. Churches for all the leading denominations will be erected and at least one school house sufficient to accommodate all pupils. Building operations will be carried on simultaneously to an extent that will house and furnish all the accommodations needed by a population of five thousand. It is expected, however, that in two or three years the number of inhabitants will rise to fifteen thousand and the additions will be provided for as rapidly as demands are made.

After diligent thought we fail to find that the kaleidoscope has anything on the weather of this winter. It, the latter, is of all hues and lightning changes hardly describes it.

Corn was again king in 1916. The value of the yield thereof was somewhat twice as great as that of wheat.

Kaiser Wilhelm was 58 years old Saturday. From the intimate personal acquaintance he professes with the Deity we had an impression centuries should stand in the place of years.

Talking about reducing the cost of living. Do you recall that when a British officer was sent to General Marion, the Swamp Fox, under a flag the latter served his visitor with a mess of sweet potatoes. Though the Britisher went back with the report it was no use to try to whip people who could fight with no more than yellow potatoes to put into their stomachs, the menu was no foxy devising or the part of Francis Marion. It was all he had, and mighty glad was he to have that.

New York, Jan. 29.—As Samuel Pepsy would record in his diary: Lay late and was rebuked by my wife, poor wretch, who would have me up and stirring at the first rooster's crow. Sulked about the house for a spell and then with J. Knott, the sketcher, for a ride in his petroleum wagon he hath named Elizabeth, deeming it more high sounding, than Lizzie.

To an inn near Larchmont, where I gaze out of the window at the beautiful scenery as the waiter approached with the bill and my companion chided me for having pockets lined with fish-bones, which is not true, so help me.

Read in the public prints that the younger munition set in New Jersey must have its diversion. "One of the most important social events of the last week," says the society notes in the Kingsland, N. J. paper, "was the explosion a week ago last Thursday."

For a walk through the town and see F. Ziegfeld locking very handsome in a new suit of tan and wearing a scarf that must have cost him two pounds. At dinner with E. Simpson, the barrister, and his bride, to whom he was introduced a year ago by me, and they seemed happy, albeit they have been married now these six months.

If there is one thing that Alice, the big elephant at the New York Zoo, dreads more than anything it is being measured for anything. And so the other day when an elegant tailor began peering around her she became almost as nervous as he was.

Alice isn't much of a dresser, and the terrified tailor was merely measuring her for harness. Three times during the process he ran for the bars and vowed that he was through for the day, but each time he was reassured by the man who trains Alice and knows all about her. So the work was finally done.

Last year Alice had a new set of harness and was used to change the location of many heavy objects at the park. This year when the old harness was placed on Alice it was

MEN AND WOMEN STORM ST. CARS, ATTEMPT TO CROSS BRIDGE BLOCKED

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—Serious rioting by Mexicans at the Juarez end of the international bridge was resumed at 7 o'clock today. A crowd of 500 men and women, incensed at not being allowed to cross the bridge until bathed, began throwing stones and bottles at the American soldiers doing duty as customs guards. Two of the guards were injured by the missiles. As the mob advanced across the bridge a company of soldiers charged them with clubbed rifles driving them back.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 29.—Anti-American feeling which cropped out in rioting yesterday at the Juarez end of the international bridge when 400 Mexican women stormed American street cars, driving off the crews, was still apparent today. Few Americans ventured across the bridge today.

Federal authorities announced that one Mexican was killed during the riot yesterday and several others injured. David McChesney, an American reporter, was caught in the crowd, the women tearing his clothing and scratching his face and shouting "kill the gringo." During the rioting some women shouted "Viva Villa! Death to the Americans!"

As a result of the outbreak the stewards of the Juarez race track, owned by Americans, issued a statement that racing had been discontinued for the season, "as a precautionary measure." The meeting had been only half completed. The owners of the three hundred horses are bringing their stables across the river today. The race track plant, valued at a million dollars, is owned by Price McKinney, of Cleveland. James Corrigan and James Butler of New York and Matt Winn of Louisville, Ky.

The rioting yesterday, started as the result of a misunderstanding when United States officials began enforcing stricter quarantine regulations because of the increase of typhus at Juarez. More than four hundred women employed at this side of the border gathered at the international bridge. Under the new order they were not allowed to cross until 7 a. m. and then only after rigid inspection.

RUSSIANS SMASH TWO MILES OF GERMAN FRONT ALONG THE RUMANIAN CARPATHIAN LINE

London, Jan. 29.—Allied victories on five different fronts today were cited as another evidence of the new policy of utmost co-operation and co-ordination of effort among the nations of the Entente.

British, French, Serbian and Russian troops each won distinct victories in every field of fighting, save the South African and Egyptian—and there was no report from these two theaters of action.

Most spectacular of the victories reported was Russia's smashing of two miles of German front, along the Rumanian-Carpathian line. The czar's forces assumed the offensive despite bitterly cold weather and snow—exactly the sort of weather that has forced a practical stoppage of the German campaign in Rumania recently. Not only did the Russians achieve an important victory in this sector, but they likewise decisively broke down an attempted German offensive on the Riga front.

On the western front there were three successful raids—two by British forces near Neuville St. Vaast and Le Transloy; and one by the French around Verdun.

From Macedonia came word today that General Sarrail's combination of French-British and Serbian forces, had struck out once more, advancing toward Thieppe.

The ship was then searched and sunk as a hostile ship."

clared there will be no waiting for Mrs. Sanger to become weakened. Prison officials say she will be fed after two days if she becomes weakened.

Conflicting reports regarding the condition of Mrs. Byrne are coming from prison authorities and friends of the militant birth-control hunger-striker. Commissioner Lewis declared Mrs. Byrne is in a satisfactory condition and that the hunger strike has been virtually broken. Bulletins issued by him state that Mrs. Byrne has made no objection to forcible feeding. She is being fed regularly.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sanger stated she had received definite and reliable information that her sister was in an extremely serious condition.

"I know she was unconscious for twenty-four hours," she exclaimed. "She was expectorating blood from the injured membranes of her throat and nose. This morning tonight may become a memorial instead of a testimonial meeting."

Plans have been made to have Mrs. Byrne at the meeting if her release today is obtained. She will be carried to the speaker's platform on a stretcher.

Big Men Of Wall Street To Be Called As Witnesses

New York, Jan. 29.—Republican members of the house note leak committee, resuming sessions here today, wanted the committee probe to be confined to hunting a leak. They held that last week's admitted quest for information wherewith to change the ethics and rules of the New York stock exchange was beyond the scope of the committee.

The Democratic members replied they wanted to find a leak too though they believed it proper to pursue further the question of short selling pools.

The week's program called for big men of the street as witnesses. Attorney Whipple expected to quiz them on whether there had been any leak. His advance examination, however, had served only to give him the idea that certain newspaper men passed along the confidential word that Secretary Lansing gave them in Washington concerning the note.

Representative Bennett, Republican, claimed to have a "paper" that might prove to be very illuminating as to a leak on the note, but refused to make it public at once.

Meantime, Mrs. Ruth Thompson Visconti, mystery woman in the case, remains in Washington, but the committee expects to call her when it returns there, probably next week.

The most strenuous efforts to side track either her or parts of her possible testimony not directly bearing on the leak have been evident for a week or more. The situation is such, however, that the committee will make no effort to squelch any real information she may have concerning a leak. The committee decided to call as first witness Phily Fiske, banker mentioned previously as boasting that he had control over Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

FIGHT LOOMS IN HOUSE OVER "SHERIFF BILL"

Columbus, Jan. 29.—A real fight loomed in the house of representatives today over the bill to require sheriffs to feed jail prisoners at cost.

The house committee on fees and salaries, was slated to report out the bill with a recommendation for indefinite postponement.

Representative Brown, Cuyahoga county, its author, said today he would make a fight on the floor to have the committee report thrown into the discard and the bill sent to the house committee on county affairs where a harder fight will be made to get favorable action.

Mayo Tesler, secretary of the Cleveland Civic League, which is backing the measure, promised to be on hand with figures showing that sheriffs in some counties make thousands of dollars in addition to their salaries by charging the county the present legal minimum of 45 cents for each prisoner per day when the actual cost is less than 35 cents.

The final public hearing is scheduled for late today on the initiated bill to bar liability insurance companies from the workmen's compensation field. Representative Chapman, chairman of the house labor committee, said today the measure will be reported out with a recommendation for passage unless the liability companies can advance new reasons.

There was talk on the Republican side today that a bill may be introduced to amend the present liquor licensing law so as to provide for the election instead of the appointment of county licensers. Democratic leaders will fight it.

While the special committee named to write a new tax law for Ohio resumed work this week a struggle was in prospect over financial relief for cities legislation. Country legislators voiced emphatic objections to the Terrell bill, removing the interest and sinking fund charges from the limitations of the Smith law. They fear this will weaken the law and will open the way to further changes which might result in raising the tax rate in their communities.

WASHINGTON ORDERS RECALL OF TROOPS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 29.—Withdrawal of the American military expedition in Mexico was ordered by the war department late Saturday and by the end of another week the entire command, after ten months on Mexican soil, probably will have recrossed into the United States. The order went to General Punston in command at the border and left to his discretion as to the time of starting the northward movement and the details of carrying it out. For several weeks he has known of the administration's determination to order the troops back to the border and under his decision the expedition has been concentrated for the long march.

MORE MEN ARE EXPECTED TO PLEAD GUILTY IN VOTE PROBE

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29.—At least twenty more men are expected to appear before United States Judge Hollister today and plead

Troy, Ohio, jails to await sentence. They will appear later as witnesses against indicted politicians to whom they charge they sold their votes.

New York, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Margaret Sanger, sister of Mrs. Ethel Byrne, will go to trial in special sessions, Miss Fania Mondell, as assistant, Brooklyn, today, charged with circulating birth control information—the same charge on which Mrs. Byrne is serving a sentence of thirty days on Blackwell's Island, and which led to her hunger strike. Five hundred babies, wheeled and carried by their mothers, will escort Mrs. Sanger to court, she announced, and will accompany her to a mass meeting at Carnegie Hall after court.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 29.—While thousands of Clevelanders line up daily at the few wells and springs in the city, the city's water continues to taste like—well, say chlorine. THE HONORABLE COURT

In court cases, where politics, in popular opinion, affects the view more than the facts developed, it is especially desirable that the judge who entertains them, be not only dependable in honor and integrity, but that his reputation and demeanor be such as to inspire public confidence in his fairness and impartiality.

We have just such a situation in the election fraud indictments, which have been returned before the federal court in Cincinnati. So far as is known all the accused are Republicans and prior to their presentation by the grand jury, leaders of the local Republican party and men influential in its business affairs took such a position as to foment the general impression that it was not a prosecution, but a persecution being conducted. That is not an issue, neither is it a matter susceptible of proof or contravention. The important, the re-assuring fact is that the man on the bench, the court, indeed, is Judge Howard Hollister. Judge Hollister is a Republican, but such is his standing, such is the discretion and impartiality, we may say the patriotic motives, the wisdom of his conduct, he has made it apparent the defendants will get a hearing in which neither favor, nor bias will have party.

It would, indeed, be a fortunate land if all its courts could administer the law and judgment in that high spirit of detachment and integrity of purpose with which the honorable court has set itself to the hearing of the cases in hand, cases the outcome of which will be eagerly awaited by the whole country.

A MATTER OF DEGREE

Theodore Roosevelt has nothing but bitter denunciation and revilement of those who would believe there should be any limit placed upon preparedness; he execrates as molochodius all who do not cultivate the warlike spirit and stand ready to fight, provocation offered or not.

Being the universal director and the general lawgiver, of course, he claims the divine prerogative of being the exception to the rule or departing from it, as mood or whim may suggest. Therefore he is not a coward, he is not weak when he proposes that America have the second largest navy in the world—an army of every male, fit to bear arms, and capable of whipping the whole earth we should have, according to him, but a second rate navy will do, also according to him. The citizen who can preserve a degree of equanimity and will whenever T. R. begins to emit a terrible din can ever appreciate the fact that as the cook-of-the-walk among nations an invincible navy, rather than an unconquerable army should be the country's reliance. The seas are open and without barriers and he who would may sail until he encounters superior force. With dominant battleships we could keep our shores free from invader and the land unscourged by hostile hosts. Wherefore does it in common sense follow that if we are going into the war game our greatest strength, our chief reliance should be in our navy. Roosevelt is obsessed with the delusion that our present "call" is to whip Germany and therefore the overwhelming army, but some day it may be our business to attend properly to England, wherefore it would be well to exceed her where she is strongest and most dominant, on the waters.

So far as we have heard Portsmouth is the only city on earth to keep a purely ornamental reservoir, and there are times when it is not so much of an ornament either, outside of the admiring eye with which some contractor regards it.

St. Louis has completed plans for the biggest sewer ever constructed. It will be thirty feet wide and twenty feet high at the beginning and forty feet high, with two arms two hundred feet wide at the outlet. Its purpose is to confine the waters of the river des Peres, a wide shallow stream, which flows through the city, and does much damage when flooded.

Fourteen thousand dollars looks like a mighty big sum to spend on the towpath, but may be it is the best thing that can be done under the conditions.

If these efficiency engineers could invent some way of distributing the waste of pluralities where they would do most good their services would be highly appreciated and munificently rewarded by political committees.

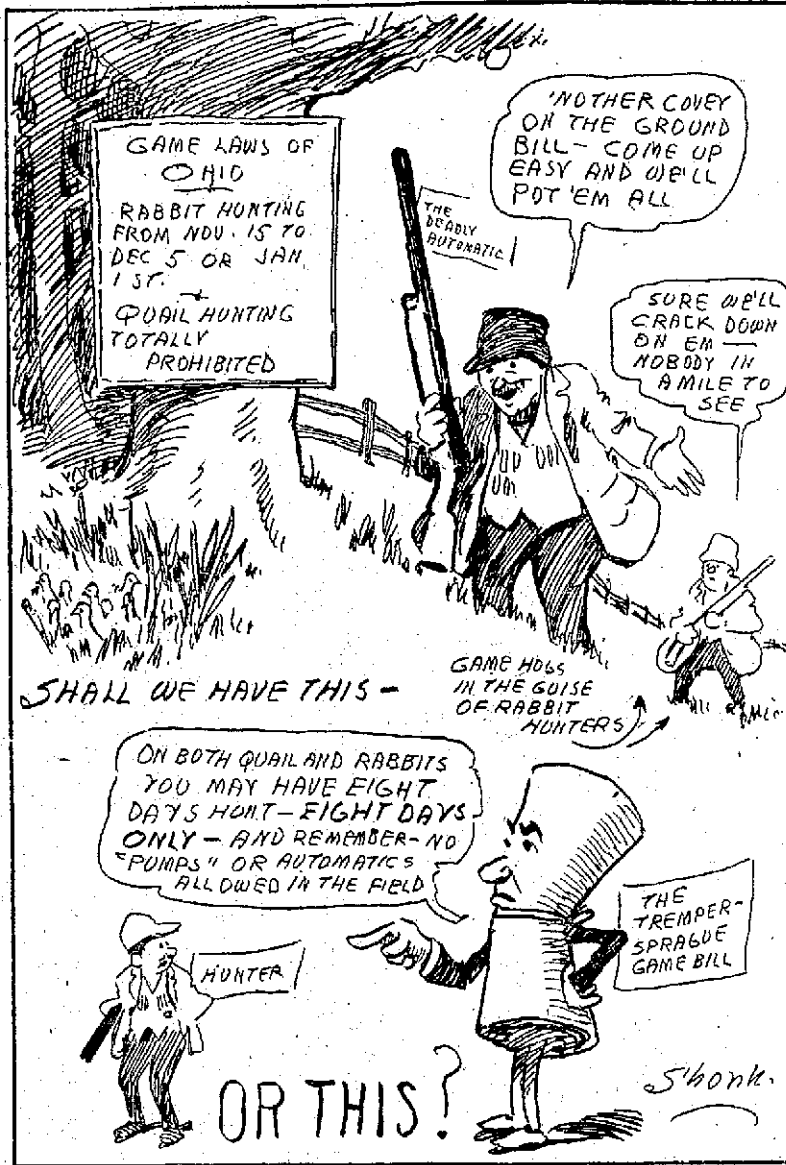

Already getting used to seeing the words bureau of public service in print and they read cosmopolitan and encouraging.

From testimony, or rather confessions being adduced before the honorable common pleas court of Scioto county we opine the next easiest thing in the world is stealing from N. & W. cars and the first disposing of the booty to junk dealers.

New York City wants all automobile horns made of the same timber and volume as a means of safety. We can't see it that. One gets so used to a particular noise that he doesn't notice it, until it stops. The clock for instance. You never heed its ticking, but let it cease and the silence becomes disturbing.

Eggs sixty cents—cold weather they say. Tucson, Arizona, is about the hottest place on earth and there they are one dollar. Which is another why no live human being should go to Tucson.

McDONALD THE CITY OF MAGIC

Aladdin wrought no more wonderful creations with his magic lamp than modern enterprise, science and money, millions, are building.

Work has begun on McDonald, situated between Youngstown and Warren, which, when completed, will truly make her the Magic City. Having purchased several thousand acres the Carnegie Steel company, a subsidiary of United States Steel, has begun the construction of McDonald. Every house will be either of brick or concrete with ample space, light and air. The streets will be wide and laid in brick. Through the center of the city will run a boulevard two hundred and eighty feet wide and in the center of this for its entire length will be set a park eighty feet wide, leaving a 100 foot roadway on either side. Every house will be supplied with gas, electricity and running water and the rent for dwellings will be on the basis of $2.50 a month for each room in it. Churches for all the leading denominations will be erected and at least one school house sufficient to accommodate all pupils. Building operations will be carried on simultaneously to an extent that will house and furnish all the accommodations needed by a population of five thousand. It is expected, however, that in two or three years the number of inhabitants will rise to fifteen thousand and the additions will be provided for as rapidly as demands are made.

After diligent thought we fail to find that the kaleidoscope has anything on the weather of this winter. It, the latter, is of all hues and lightning changes hardly describes it.

Corn was again king in 1916. The value of the yield thereof was somewhat twice as great as that of wheat.

Kaiser Wilhelm was 58 years old Saturday. From the intimate personal acquaintance he professes with the Deity we had an impression centuries should stand in the place of years.

Talking about reducing the cost of living. Do you recall that when a British officer was sent to General Marion, the Swamp Fox, under a flag the latter served his visitor with a mess of sweet potatoes. Though the Britisher went back with the report it was no use to try to whip people who could fight with no more than yellow potatoes to put into their stomachs, the menu was no foxy devising on the part of Francis Marion. It was all he had and mighty glad was he to have that.

A certain Broadway actor recently brought a protracted trip over the high spots of the town to a close at a doctor's office. Presently he emerged from the sanctum of medical advice wearing an expression that betokened extreme discouragement.

How to Make Want Ads Pay

Example No. 7

Avoid Humor

Suppose you were reading our Want Ad columns, looking for a business opening. You have a few hundred dollars, let us assume, and wish to invest in some business that will also employ you.

In the Business Chance columns, you notice two Want Ads in particular that cover about what you wish. Here they are:

SAMPLE No. 1 OF A SLANDY WANT AD

6600 BUYS A HALF INTEREST in an office supply business. We have made $100 on our capital alone organization. Going some, eh? Do you think you would be game enough to sit in with us? No more or less distant fellows wanted.

COMMENT No. 1

There is a sort of law, 2500 in a room, atmosphere in this advertisement. You would be inclined to not risk your money.

SAMPLE No. 2 OF COMMON SENSE WANT AD

6600 BUYS A HALF INTEREST in a going, expanding office supply business. We started with $250 and our investment now is $1250. We have paid good salaries, are only current bills, have large bills receivable, and have never shown less than 50% net on our actual investment, in addition to salaries. For facts, address at once.

COMMENT No. 2

Here we have plain, business matter. There is no heavy air of opportunism about this Want Ad. It is shorter, and it is direct and would attract you more you looking for this kind of opening.

Business Matters are Always Serious

It is invariably a mistake to attempt to appeal to any person for business support on the basis of humor, or slang, or street-corner expressions.

If you seek to gain confidence, which is essential in some degree always, you must make your approach (which means your Want Ad) businesslike.

Careless wording of your Want Ad detracts at once from its pulling power. There is a great number of readers can be of small value to you.

The only kind of Want Ad that will permit humor, is the kind that advertises some humorous book, toy or similar device.

DECISIVE BATTLE COMING SAYS THE GERMAN COURT PREACHER; MAKES FIERY DEFENSE OF TEUTON CAUSE

Berlin, Jan. 29. (Via Wireless)—Where, one year ago Dr. Dryander, the quiet, white-haired man who is court preacher, pleaded for an hour for peace in the services making the Kaiser's birthday, this year his sermon was a fiery defense of Germany's cause and a militant plea for Germany to steel herself for the decisive battle everyone believes is coming.

In this changed spirit he reflected the sentiment of the German people. His sermon of Saturday has evoked the deepest approval everywhere.

"We know," he said, speaking at the special cathedral services commemorating the birthday of Germany's ruler, "that before us is the decisive battle which can be fought through only with the greatest sacrifices. But in all cases of the past God has helped. And God will fight for us today, through our leaders and our soldiers. We neither will nor want this war—neither the Kaiser nor the people. We hoped for peace as the Kaiser extended his peace proposal but with unheard of frivolity and insults are enemies slipped the back of the Kaiser's extended hand of peace.

"To such enemies there is only one voice—that of cannon. We continue the war with a clear conscience and with trust in God that he will bring us victory. God cannot—he will not—permit the German people to go down."

PLAN FOR CO-OPERATION IN FIGHT AGAINST INCREASE IN FREIGHT RATES

Recommendations were made at a meeting of several traffic men from local plants Saturday, that the directors of the Board of Trade affiliate with the Cities' Rate Re-adjustment Commission.

The meeting, which was held at the board of trade offices, Masonic Temple, was held primarily to protest against the increased freight rates by the Central Freight Association.

A hearing is being held today at Chicago by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and another one will be given next week. Portsmouth is represented by G. M. Just a few years ago thousands of carnations on this day decorated coat lapels, but during the past few years the little token of esteem has not been kept up so consistently.
